"The County Election." Under this head, the Journal takes position against the proposition of the Democratic central committee to ignore party nominations and party contests at the coming election. It admits that Messes Wallace and Moore were nominated as party candidates; that they are partisans, and that they have spent much time in canvassing the county as Republicans. The Journal thus unwittingly concedes the paramount objections to continuing these gentlemen as candidates, if the members of the Republican party are sincere in proposing that party or partisan considerations shall be generally ignored until the termination of the unfortunate sectional contest which theeatens the very life of the Government. To make a Union ticket acceptable. should not be composed of extreme partisans, or those who have been brought forward by party conventions either to reward them for partisan services or as the zealous advocates of the distinctive political principles of the party organizations they represent. It was these considerations that influenced the Democratic committee in proposing that both candidates for Clerk nominated by party conventions, in which party lines were rigidly drawn, should be withdrawn. To show their good faith and liberality the Democratic committee proposed the name of a Republican, whom the Journal can not but concede is unexceptionable in every respect, as the Union candidate for Clerk, and that paper indorsed Mr. Hosanoon, immediately after his nomination, as in every respect worthy of the position for which he was named: Commissioner of the County Court. But so far as Mr. Hosbnook is concerned he will give way if any other Democrat is more acceptable to the Republicans, and the Democratic committee-in their propositions, expressed their willingness to accept the name of any other substantial Democrat, if the withdrawal of Mr. Hosnaook would insure the formation of a Union ticket. But the Journal says it would be treating Messrs. WALLACE and Moone with great injustice, if they should be set aside in the manner proposed, Why? Is it of more importance to elect two partisans than to ignore party contests in the present crisis of the country? At the head of the editorial column of the Republican organ, day after day, appears the following extract from the last speech of Doug-LAS, which it has adopted as the sentiment which

Whoever is not prepared to sacrifice party organizations and platforms on the altar of his country, does not deserve the support and countenance of honest men.

should govern every citizen until the Government and the country is rescued from its perils:

The Republicans demand of the Democrats the ignoring of party contests during the war as a patriotic duty. In response thereto the Democratic committee propose the withdrawal of the party nominations of both parties and a Union ticket composed of unexceptionable candidates, which can receive the common support of both parties. Now comes the test whether the Republicans are honest in their professions of no partyism. If Messrs. WALLACE and MOORE are not "prepared to sacrifice party organizations and platforms on the altar of their country," which the Republicans claim to be a paramount and patriotic duty, do they "deserve the support and countenance of honest men?" This is a question for these gentlemen and the Republican party to

The proposition of the Democratic committee was made in good faith, and if it is acceded to by the Republicans, it will be carried out, and thus all partisan strife and party contests will be ignored at the October election.

-Since the foregoing was written, we have received a card from Mr. New, declining to be a candidate for clerk, as proposed by the Democratic Central Committee. The declination of Mr. NEW does not weaken the proposition of the Democratic committee for a Union ticket, lessen the obligations of the Republican party to accede thereto, or in anywise diminish the force of the considerations we have presented upon the subject. The sincerity of the no party professions of the Republicans can best be demonstrated by the withdrawal of their party candidates for the

Hon. D. S. Dickinson's Speeches.

Some Republican papers are inquiring why we do not publish the late speeches of Mr. Dickinson. Our response is that we have not now, nor never had any confidence in his patriotism, sagacity or wisdom. He is not, therefore, a safe guide or counselor in the present perilous crisis of the country. His political career has been governed by personal ambition and prejudices. At one time no man more abject to what he now terms Southern arrogance and dictation when he hoped his personal interests would be advanced thereby, and now he takes a directly opposite position for the same consideration, to wit: his personal aggrandizement. Besides this, Mr. Dickinson is responsible, to the extent of his ability and influence, for the present condition of public affairs, and instead of being honored as he has been with a nomination to a responsible office by the New York State Fusion Convention a few days ago, that body, if it had acted with consistency and true devotion to the Union, instead of complimenting would have rebuked him. It will now be seen whether the Republicans of New York by voting for him will reward a man who has not only been treacherous to his party but to the Union. The Albany (New York) Argus, like ourselves, was requested to publish one of the late speeches of Mr. Dickinson. That print thus replies to the request, and we adopt its response thereto as our own. It says:

There is one point in Mr. Dickinson's recent peeches, in which Democrats will generally conloyalty," he says, condensing in this phrase, the resolution of the New York Democratic State

We are glad to enroll Mr. Dickinson among the supporters of the Union and the Constitution, No man has done more to bring upon the country the disasters that surround it; and upon no one does the duty of repairing these disasters fall more directly and heavily. The Rochester Daily Union, speaking of him and his recent efforts, says:

In this connection let us inquire into the prom-inent cause of this war. All will admit, we presume, that the Southern secession from the Na-tional Convention, the consequent organization of an ultra Southern Convention and the nomination of Breckinridge, constitute the immediate cause of Breckinridge, constitute the immediate cause of the war, and were intended to bring about distinion. Mr. Yancey declared that when the eight States went out "I had already broken up the Democratic party and had the Union at my feet!" Such were the foreseen and designed consequences of withdrawing from the National Convention and nominating Breckinridge. But Mr. Dickinson threw the weight of his influence in favor of breaking me the Convention. breaking up the Convention. He wrote a letter requiring every one of his friends to withdraw whenever the Southern delegation withdrew. That letter we can not now find, but such a letter was written. In his speech at the Cooper Institute

Breckinridge meeting, he also said:

"I commend with my whole heart the spirit and approve the conduct of Caleb Gushing, who refused longer to preside over the tyrannous cabal; and of the delegations who, under the same President, reorganized and placed in nomination Messrs. Breckinridge and Lane."

Thus we see Mr. Dickinson was an "accessory before the fact" of secession, recellion and disunion. He counselled, aided and abetted the breaking up of the National Democratic organization, and the formation of a Southern party on the basis of the divine right of slavery and the Dred Scott decision; and he "commended with whole heart" the nomination of Breckinridge hole heart" the nomination of Breekinridge and Lane as the representatives of the inchoate

The gravamen of this charge against Mr. Dickinson is, that he advised his political supporters ded, to go with them," and that he afterwards did what he could to secure the election of Mr. Lincoln, by dividing and distracting the Democracy of New York upon a mere factious ques-

But has not Mr. Dickinson repented of this? It is true that as he swung to the extreme South last year, he comes back, by the swing of the pendulum now, to the extreme North. He who once "wanted to be born in Virginia," is now in cor respondence with WM. H. SEWARD, "of the Massa chusetts school," on the subject of a basis of mu-

For ourselves, while we admit that there is his new position, we prefer for ourselves, a system of politics that does not require a man to be and an Abolitionist in 1861; but which commands him to stand true amid all extremes and faithful to the Constitution from first to last.

Object of the War.

The New York Tribune in a late issue says: "We hold that our proper work in this war is bjugation, in the literal sense of the word." On the other hand, Secretary CHASE, in his ap peal for the national loan last week, in speaking of the Southern people, says:

"Will they not reflect that the war in which the vernment has been constrained is not a war for their subjugation, but a war for national ex-istence, and that an suspicious result to the Union will benefit as largely the States in insurrection as the States which have remained loyal?" So it is evident that the philosophers of the Tribune do not understand what they are talking about, and all their efforts to turn the war into an Abolition crusade will fail. The Administration

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

Is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depress we speels without rewinding. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many de structive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous, their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Intermittent Fever or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Agne, Periodical Headache, or Bil-lious Headache, and Billious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in Biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of Miasmatic We are enabled here to offer the community a emedy which, while it cures the above complaints with certainty, is still perfectly harmless in any quantity. Such a remedy is invaluable in stricts where these afflicting disorders prevail. This "Cure" expels the misasmatic poison of Fever and Ague from the system, and prevents he development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of everybody; and in billious districts, where Fever and Ague prevails, everybody should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents, is that it contains no Quinice or mineral, consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disrders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palstation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysteries, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Care" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to mmigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and can not accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for proection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords. Prepared by DR. J. C. LHONKE, Noble county, Indiana, Feb. 5 1859. Prof. O. J. Wood, Dear Sir-in the latter part of the year 1852, while attending to the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months, the whole upper part of my scalp was entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana, my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance, as my more intimate acquaint-ances to recognize me at all.

I at once made application to the most skillful phy-sicians in the country, but receiving no assurances from them that my hair could again be restored, I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until fortunately in the latter part of the year 1857, your restorative was recommended to me by a druggist, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was pre-using the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars' worth of your Restorative, and as a result, have a rich coat of very soft black hair, which no money can buy. As a mark of my gratitude for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article, I have recom-rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the road side, from which my head received a most terrible blow, causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effect of which my hair was finally destroyed over the entire surface of the head. From the time I first discovered its drounting, however, no to the time of its total discovered its dropping, however, up to the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself; and, as I thought understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and mostly advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy Hair Restorative, which I have every reason to belive produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my most sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not

Dear Sir.—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstances, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth, so much so that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair green out onto layurs and a three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give it to you at the request of Bradford. Yours, &c., THOMPSON SUKGHNOR. CHESTER, S. C., 30th July, 1859. Paor. O. J. Wood-Dear Sir; I take pleasure in recommending your Hair Restorative as a most excellent cure for scald head. My son was suffering very much from this disease, and after using one bottle, was made perfectly well. I recommended it to others who had diseases of the head, and in all cases it had the decired effect. You can recommend it without fear as a most certain cure for scald head. Many others will certify that this and many other cases was cured from the use of your most valuable Hair Restorative.

HOG'S LARD, WHALE OIL, LARD OIL, SWEET OIL, scented and colored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers and white flint glass bottles, the costllest character of tonics; and when thus costly are baptized with some trisyllable term, and caught at by verdant young and old of both sexes. Such is not the character of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. This gentlemen comes before the world without any "bighfalutin" Kilophioforium, or any other as-tounding or startling catchpenny terms; he simply ad-vertises a Mair Restorative—what it expresses, pre-cisely—and as a Restorative it acts.
